Online Databases

QUESCREN manages four online databases that help users discover resources on English-speaking Quebec.

Brendan O'Donnell's Bibliography on English-speaking Quebec

This bibliography, which Brendan O'Donnell has been compiling since the 1970s, contains secondary sources related to the study of English-speaking Quebec. Resources include everything from scholarly studies to magazine articles, films, and websites. This year, Brendan added 124 titles to the bibliography, bringing the total number of entries up to 14,725. Visitor levels were consistent with previous years for most months; however, a surge in AI-driven bot traffic, which caused repeated site instability in the summer and fall, has made annual totals unreliable for 2025-2026. Bot protection (Anubis) has since been implemented to address this issue. Thanks to Brendan for his decades of dedicated volunteer work!

Community Knowledge Open Library (CKOL)

increase in online resources

The Community Knowledge Open Library (CKOL) is a growing online full-text database listing of grey literature sourced from the province's English-speaking community groups. Grey literature is unpublished but non-archival material made available to the public, such as annual reports, PowerPoint presentations, and pamphlets. So far, 56 community partner organizations from across Quebec have joined the project, including 5 new partners in the past year. At the end of the 2025-26 fiscal year, we catalogued a total of 6,013 resources, up from 4,828 the year before. CKOL was searched 6,364 times by 2,647 active users.

New Partners: Blue Metropolis Foundation; Connexions Resource Centre; Montérégie East Partnership for the English-Speaking Community (MEPEC); North Shore Community Association (NSCA); Regional Development Network (RDN)

Data Portal on English-Speaking Quebec (DESQ)

The Data Portal on English-Speaking Quebec (DESQ) is an online database that offers custom statistical datasets focused on Quebec's English-speaking population. Created for individual researchers and organizations, the datasets are primarily based on Canadian census data and include information not available on the Statistics Canada website. There are now 150 datasets on the portal. We gathered hundreds of new datasets in 2025-2026, which will be added to the site in the coming year.

ILET Research Hub

iLET RESEARCH HUB

35%
increase in views

The ILET Research Hub brings together all QUESCREN-produced research-based resources on Quebec's English-language education ecosystem along with blog posts and infographics. To enhance user experience, we have made improvements to the website interface for smoother navigation and accessibility. The hub attracted 2,884 views from Canada and the United States, including 867 active users.

PROJECTS

Education Research and Network Strengthening Initiative

In 2025 QUESCREN launched the Education Research and Network Strengthening Initiative, a two-year Canadian Heritage-funded project to advance research, collaboration, and knowledge mobilization across Quebec's English-language education continuum. The initiative brings together researchers, education leaders, and community partners to identify shared priorities, develop a Research Agenda, and guide research projects on early childhood through post-secondary and adult education.

A committee of education and research stakeholders was established in May 2025 to support this work. By March 2026, 20 research projects were under development in response to priorities identified through the initiative. QUESCREN also produced the first of four planned e-bulletins for the initiative in February 2026. Read the first e-bulletin.

People's History of English-Speaking Quebec

Alongside a growing series of oral history videos, QUESCREN continued developing the written components of the People's History project. Themes include community advocacy, memory and identity, relations with Indigenous communities, and the experiences of racialized groups from the colonial period to the present. These materials will contribute to an upcoming illustrated history book intended for a general audience.

Regional Realities of English-Speaking Quebec

Regional Realities is a documentary film series that delves into the everyday experiences of English-speaking communities across the province. Filmmaker and Research Associate Anita Aloisio has directed two films so far, one on the Outaouais and one on Rouyn-Noranda. By sharing these stories through video and ethnographic research, QUESCREN aims to raise awareness, strengthen community bonds and understanding, as well as support informed decision-making by policymakers and other leaders. Watch the documentaries.
